A note from the Teacher-Librarian

My first year at ETMRES as the teacher-librarian has been very rewarding. I have enjoyed working with all of the students and have started to develop some literacy activities that are taught through time in the library. I look forward to expanding those activities next year and to continue to develop the love of reading in students.

I am sending home reading logs for the summer with those students who would like to track their summer reading. That should appear next week.

As we prepare for the end of school, it is important to get all materials back into the library. All books were due this week, so if your child still has any books out as of Thursday afternoon, they will receive a notice to return or pay for the book(s). Please check with your child to see if they received such a notice. If your child was on a field trip on Thursday or was at PMS or LMS for grade six visitations, they will receive their notices on Monday or Tuesday next week.

Thank you for helping to get those books back and for supporting the library program.

Teacher-Librarian
