Library News!

Now that our French Book Fair is concluded, I would like to thank all parents who supported the English and the French Book Fairs. We receive approximately $1500.00 worth of free materials from the bonuses we receive by hosting these fairs. It is an important fund raiser for the library.

A special thank you to the Canadian Parents for French who bought $100.00 in books for the library recently.

Scholastic book flyers went home this week for the following classes: Mme. Catherine, Mme. Kathleen, Mme. Victoria, Mme. Adreanne, Mrs. Meijer and Mrs. Malmberg. These are the classes that place orders through the library. Book orders need to be returned or ordered on-line by Tuesday, November 27th to ensure delivery prior to the Winter Break.

If you have books sitting around collecting dust and would like to donate any to the library, we will gladly accept them. We will take any type of book from preschool to adult. If the books are not suitable for our library, they can be taken in to Pages Book Emporium and used as book credits for materials we can use. Any book donations can be dropped off at the library from Monday--Thursday.

A reminder from the Ministry of Education

The BC Ministry of Education is reminding eligible constituents to apply for the B.C. Training and Education Savings Grant before it is too late.

The $1,200 grant for a Registered Education Savings Plan (RESP) is eligible for B.C. residents between the ages of six and nine. According to a release from the ministry, there are no additional fees or financial contributions needed in order to receive the grant through one of the 56 banks or financial institutions in Canada. For more information, please visit the webpage.

A Book Under Every Tree

The Columbia Basin Alliance for Literacy has a new campaign this year. They are looking for donations of new or gift-quality used books. Donations can be made here at the school.

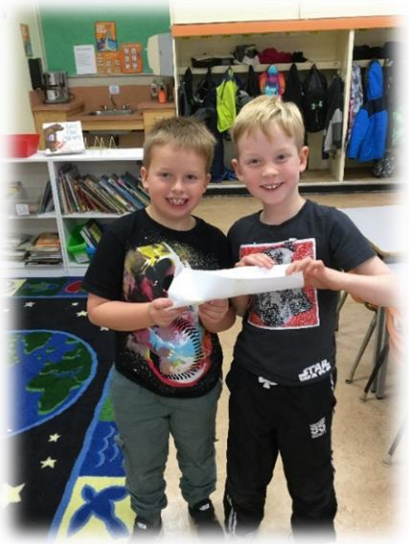

Parent's Corner:

Adequate Sleep, Physical Activity and Limited Screen Time Result in Improved Cognition for Kids

Canada's 24 Hour Movement Guidelines recommend at least 60 minutes of physical activity per day, 2 hours or less recreational screen time per day and 9–11 hour sleep per night for children aged 5–13 years. A recent study shows that students who adhered to the three Guidelines had superior cognition to those who met none of the Guidelines.
